

How can something so profound and powerful be learned in only a two-day workshop? Because you are born with this ability! We simply teach you how to use it.

In a two-day QT workshop you will learn many things including:

- A series of breathing and body awareness exercises to help you focus and amplify life-force energy. This is the core technique used in QT. It is so simple and natural to learn, children and grandparents have picked it up easily. You can too!
- How to bring down inflammation and pain in record time. This in itself is an invaluable skill. You will now be able to help yourself and others reduce or totally eliminate even long-term, chronic pain and inflammation.
- How bones can realign themselves with a light touch. No physical manipulation is required! You just facilitate the energy and the body's innate ability to heal itself takes over.
- How to help reduce or eliminate back pain; and get faster & better results than you have ever thought possible. Many chiropractors and others are now using QT because it is so effective for chronic back pain.
- How to amplify the power of your sessions by working with advanced techniques. These techniques further increase the effectiveness of your QT sessions.
- How to use Quantum-Touch in conjunction with other healing professions. QT can be combined with conventional, alternative and complementary healing modalities to dramatically improve the results for the client.
- How to work with pets and other animals using QT. All animals respond amazingly well.
